Item 1.A	Advisory Service and Fees Services. Van Den Berg Management, Inc. is a registered investment adviser doing business under the name "Century Management." We provide the following services to our clients: Investment advisory services. Century Management offers consulting, planning, implementation, and management of both equity and income portfolios. Our investment advisory clients include individuals, corporations, insurance companies, pension and profit sharing plans, estates, and charitable organizations. All of our accounts are managed on a discretionary basis. At the outset of each engagement, the client defines its investment objectives in writing, and these objectives guide our management of the client's account. We manage each account individually, according to a variety of management styles. These styles are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Standard accounts, in which investments may include, but are not limited to, equities, cash and fixed income instruments.• Balanced accounts, which include equities and fixed income securities in a more specific, pre-determined allocation mix.• Bundled accounts, in which we provide advisory services in conjunction with a brokerage firm's bundled fee that includes transaction and custodial fees. This is not a wrap account, however. Our fees are charged separately from the brokerage firm's fees.• Fixed income accounts• Tax free accounts In addition to providing services to clients directly, we also work with APS Asset Management, Inc., and Hillside Associates, Inc. (called "APS" and "Hillside" in this document). APS and Hillside are registered investment advisers not affiliated with us. Under our arrangements with APS and Hillside, their employees meet with certain of our clients, determine the client's needs, evaluate which of our management styles is appropriate for the client, and transmit this information to us. In these circumstances, we retain 45% to 75% of the fee the client pays, depending on the work involved, and APS or Hillside is paid the remainder. Stock option analysis. For our clients who have significant net worth in corporate stock options, we offer consulting, planning, and management services. Financial planning. Our professionals interview each client at length to determine the client's goals, and we review documents the client supplies, such as wills, insurance policies, and tax returns. Each client receives a detailed written plan. We recommend that all clients work closely with their attorneys, accountants, insurance agents, investment advisers and securities brokers to implement a

We counsel clients concerning the current and future tax effects of various investment vehicles. • Disability and estate planning. We analyze disability coverage and help clients anticipate their families' needs upon the client's death. • Retirement planning. We help clients determine their retirement goals and formulate investment strategies to assist in reaching those goals. • Investment planning. We evaluate investment alternatives and their effect on a client's portfolio. Retirement plan consulting. Century Management provides consultations concerning Defined Benefit Pension Plans, Defined Contribution Plans (including money purchase and profit sharing plans), Qualified Retirement Plans, Keogh Plans, IRA's (including SEP, Roth, contributory, and rollover plans), and other types of qualified and non-qualified retirement plans. We assist our clients in implementing and monitoring these plans. Other consulting services. Some clients consult us on a limited basis. For instance, a client may be solely concerned with planning for his or her children's education. We are available for consultations on a wide range of investment and financial matters. Fees. Century Management's fees may be negotiable in certain circumstances (for instance, if the client's initial deposit is in excess of $5,000,000), and therefore fees for similar services may vary from client to client. Our usual fees are as follows: Investment advisory services. All investment advisory clients sign written agreements with us. Each agreement provides that the client will pay an annual fee based on the dollar value of assets under our management. We collect fees quarterly, in advance, based on the value of assets as of the last trading day of the preceding calendar quarter. If an investment advisory agreement becomes effective partway through a calendar quarter, fees are prorated for the period from the effective date of the agreement to the close of the calendar quarter.

Item of Form (identify)	Answer
	to client. Federal regulations restrict the availability of performance fee arrangements so that performance fees may only be charged to certain qualified clients. For example, clients who maintain $750,000 in assets under management with Century Management or whose net worth exceeds $1,500,000 may be eligible to enter performance fee arrangements with us. Depending on the circumstances, a client whose fees are based on our performance may pay higher fees than the fees paid by clients who do not enter performance fee agreements. Disclosure concerning mutual funds. In most cases, a client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without using Century Management's services. Our services are designed to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to the client's financial situation and goals. Accordingly, clients should consider mutual funds' fees and our fees together in order to fully understand the total amount of fees the client will pay and to evaluate the value of the services we provide. In most cases, however, clients' portfolios will be invested in individual equities and individual fixed income securities. Other charges to the client's account. Our fees do not include any bank fees, margin interest, national securities exchange fees, wire transfer fees or other costs or fees associated with securities transactions as required by law. Clients' funds awaiting investment may be placed in a money market fund; our fees do not include any internal fees and expenses of any money market fund. Accounts with assets invested in mutual funds will bear a proportionate share of the fund's fees and expenses, as will other accounts of other shareholders of the fund. Some mutual funds may impose sales charges, in which case the client would pay an initial or deferred sales charge that is not included in our fees. Financial planning services. Century Management's fees for financial planning services are based on either a flat fee or an hourly fee. Our typical flat fee ranges between $1,500 and $2,500, and our usual hourly rate ranges from $150 to $200 per hour, depending on the complexity of the engagement. We provide an estimate of total financial planning fees for each client before we begin work. Payment of Fees. Investment advisory clients. Each investment advisory agreement provides that a client may pay our fees directly or the client may authorize the deduction of fees from the client's account, which a third-party custodian maintains. If fees are deducted from the client's account, we will simultaneously send the client a bill showing the amount of the advisory fee due, the account value on which the fee is based, and how the fee was calculated. Clients are required to acknowledge that the custodian will not verify our fee calculation and that it is the client's responsibility to review our bills to ensure that fees were calculated accurately. Each investment advisory agreement for a client who agrees to pay performance fees is individually negotiated and contains details concerning the calculation of the performance

Item 9.	Participation or Interest in Client Transactions Item 9.D [regarding our recommendation of securities in which Century Management or a related person has a financial interest]. Please see the disclosure concerning TL Partners, Ltd. in Item 8.D of this Schedule F. Policies designed to avoid conflicts of interest. When we are actively considering the purchase of a security for our clients, none of our employees or related persons (except TL Partners) may purchase that security until we have completed purchases for our clients. Our corporate pension plan is also subject to this restriction. There may be infrequent situations beyond our control, such as tender offers or forced conversions, in which all sales of securities must be made at the same time and price for clients' accounts and employees' accounts. Century Management or individuals associated with Century Management may buy or sell securities identical to those recommended to customers for their personal accounts. Additionally, related persons may have an interest or position in certain securities that may also be recommended to a client. Because these situations could represent a conflict of interest, Century Management has established the following restrictions in order to fulfill its fiduciary responsibilities: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) A director, officer or employee of Century Management shall not buy or sell securities for his or her personal portfolio when the individual's decision to purchase or sell is substantially derived, in whole or in part, from his or her employment with Century Management unless the information on which the decision is based is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. No person employed by or associated with Century Management shall prefer his or her own interest to the interest of any of our clients. 2) We require that all employees and related persons who have access to the firm's investment advice provide complete records of all of their securities purchases and sales each quarter. An officer of Century Management reviews these trading records to ensure compliance with the firm's policies. 3) We inform clients of their right to select brokers and insurance agents to provide services for their accounts. 4) We require all individuals associated with the firm to comply with all applicable federal and state regulations governing registered investment advisers and their representatives and solicitors. 5) Any individual who does not comply with the firm's policies may be subject to termination.

	10) Century Management will provide Individual advice to each advisory client.
Item 10	Conditions for Managing an Account Century Management requires a minimum annual fee of $4000 for an investment advisory client's first account and a minimum annual fee of $1000 for each subsequent account number. Please refer to Item 1 of this Schedule F for complete information regarding our services and fees.
Item 11.A	Reviews of Accounts For investment advisory accounts, we review every account before each trade is placed in order to insure the appropriateness of the trade for the account. We review each account individually at least once each quarter. For clients who established accounts with us prior to 1999 and who have multiple accounts, we internally manage the multiple accounts as if they were one account for purposes of asset allocation, billing, and performance calculations unless the client directs us to do otherwise in writing. For clients who established accounts with us in 1999 or after and who have multiple accounts, we manage each of the multiple accounts on a stand-alone basis. Four senior employees of Century Management review our clients' accounts. Arnold Van Den Berg, President, and James Brilliant, CFA, Vice President and Senior Analyst, comprise the senior reviewing committee. The number of accounts they review depends on the number of accounts in the firm at any given time. James Brilliant, CFA, Senior Analyst and Aaron Buckholtz, CFA, Senior Analyst, are research analysts who are responsible for the daily evaluation and research of our equity and fixed income investments. Scott Van Den Berg, CFP, Senior Financial Planner, assists with portfolio management. Financial planning and retirement planning clients may contract for a review of their plan for a separate fee. Scott Van Den Berg, CFP is the Senior Financial and Retirement Planner.
Item 12	Investment or Brokerage Discretion Items 12.A.(1) and 12.A.(2). Century Management manages its investment advisory accounts on a discretionary basis, which means that clients provide us with the authority to determine the securities that are bought or sold and the amounts of the purchases and sales. If a client wishes to limit this authority, the client must specify the limitations in writing. A

	client may amend these restrictions at any time. Item 12.A.(3) and 12.A(4). Century Management asks each discretionary investment advisory client to provide us with written authority to determine the broker dealer to use for the client's transactions and the commissions that will be charged to the client's account for these transactions. If a client wishes to limit this authority, the client must specify the limitations in writing. A client may amend these restrictions at any time. Item 12.B Recommendation of broker-dealer. Century Management recommends that its investment advisory clients establish a custodial account at Schwab, Waterhouse, Dain Rauscher, Prudential, or Fidelity. Under a 'prime brokerage' relationship offered by these firms, Century Management may trade directly with the firm that maintains custody of the client's account or with another broker-dealer. Should Century Management elect to use another broker-dealer, the client will pay a transaction fee to the custodial firm in addition to the commission charged by the executing broker-dealer. Century Management will use other brokers only when doing so is consistent with our duty of best execution. Directed trading. If clients direct Century Management to use a particular broker or dealer for all trades, we require the client to acknowledge in writing that Century Management will not have authority to negotiate commissions or obtain volume discounts and that best execution may not be achieved. In addition, a disparity may exist between the commission rates paid by a client who directs our use of a particular broker and to the commission rates our other clients pay. Bundling programs. In certain situations, broker-dealers who offer 'bundled' commission and custodial fee programs may recommend Century Management to clients. In these programs, Century Management will bill its advisory fee to the client and the broker-dealer will bill the client a single fee that covers transaction charges and custodial fees. If a client is considering entering into this type of relationship, we remind the client that this arrangement will require us to direct all trades to the broker-dealer offering the 'bundled' service; therefore, the client may not be included in block trades we execute for our other clients and best execution may not be achieved. The client should also consider that, given the volume of trading in the client's account, the fees paid by the client under this 'bundled' arrangement may be more or less than what the client would pay if the services were provided separately. Participation in the Schwab Institutional program. As previously noted, we recommend Charles Schwab & Co. to clients who need the services of a brokerage firm. Century Management participates in the Schwab Institutional services program that Schwab offers to independent investment advisers. As a participant in the Schwab Institutional program, we receive benefits we would not receive if we did not offer investment advice (See the disclosure under Item 13.A. of this Schedule F.)

	Policy regarding block trading. Century Management will block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple clients' accounts so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rated basis between all accounts included in any such block. Block trading allows Century Management to execute equity trades in a more timely, equitable manner and to reduce overall commission charges to clients.

Item 13.A and 13.B	Additional Compensation Item 13.A: We receive no cash benefit, including commissions, from any party in connection with our clients' accounts. Century Management participates in the institutional services programs maintained by Schwab, Waterhouse, Dain Rauscher, Prudential, and Fidelity. While there is not a direct link between the investment advice given and our participation in these programs, we receive economic benefits that would not be available to us if our clients' accounts were not maintained at the firms. These benefits include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • our receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; • our access to a trading desk serving exclusively institutional clients; • our access to block trading which provides us with the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to clients' accounts; • the ability to have our investment advisory fees deducted directly from our clients' accounts; • our access, for a fee, to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; • receipt of compliance publications and access to continuing education seminars; and • access to mutual funds which generally require significantly higher minimum initial investments or are generally available only to institutional investors. The benefits each firm extends to us may vary according to the amount of our clients' assets under the firm's custody. Item 13.B Compensation for client referrals. Century Management compensates individuals not affiliated with our firm for client referrals under certain restricted circumstances. All individuals who receive compensation must be properly registered under applicable state securities laws. There must be a written solicitation and referral agreement between Century Management and the solicitor. Clients receive full disclosure, in advance, of the terms of the solicitation agreement and must sign an acknowledgment of receipt of the disclosure.
